

New Defence Division

Recognising the networked and cross-Services nature of many future defence programmes, SEA has brought together all its defence activities into a single Defence Division, to work with its UK Ministry of Defence and overseas defence customers and associated industrial partners.

Paul Phillips has been appointed Managing Director of the new Defence Division. Having worked in the defence industry for over 20 years, he brings a wealth of knowledge and experience in military business and technology. Paul has an excellent track record; he was previously Managing Director of SEA's successful Battlespace Division, addressing the Land, Air and ISTAR sectors.

SEA's Chief Executive Officer, Ian Dale-Staples, comments: "I am delighted that Paul has taken up the position of Managing Director of our new Defence Division. Merging the two former SEA divisions, Marine and Battlespace, has provided him with the opportunity to consolidate and enhance our extensive defence capability, delivering complex systems and products to our MoD customers and industrial partners."